Part 1: ff. 1-6v

Description: - Paper - Three watermarks. On f.6, a wreath (the ends cross at the bottom) with round projections, like leaves or buds, on both its inner and outer edges. Inside the wreath is a sword with its point upwards. The point curves to the right. The bottom of the sword curves out to either side. The result looks somewhat like a peace sign, or a lily if upside down. Superimposed over the blade of the sword is a heart, with its point also facing upwards. The diameter of the outer edge of the wreath is about 90 mm. On f.1, letters reading "M4S". The 4 is taller than the M and S, and the downstroke of the 4 overlaps with the final minim of the M. The 4 is about 37 mm tall and the M is about 13 mm tall. The width of the entire watermark is 32 mm. UTS 037-32 has the same pair of watermarks. f.2-3 have a third watermark, a circle about 34 mm in diameter. It has some small decorations around its outer edge and a design in the center, but the details of these are obscured by the text. - 357 x 220 mm

Notes: ff. 1 and 6 are a cover for the text, which is on ff.2-4v. f.1 with a note identifying the text as an apostolic provision. f.4v includes the signature and seal of the notary, Joseph Philip Saxler, who verified the copy. His seal, in red wax and covered by a piece of paper cut in the shape of a four-petaled flower or a rounded cross, shows quite clearly through the paper. His name is legible, as is an image of a set of scales with a cherub standing on either side. f.2 and 5 have a Union Theological Seminary library stamp. f.6v has the call number "MS 37/36" in pencil in a modern hand. #### Text 1: ff. 2-4v

Title: Papal bull, copy

Language(s): Latin

Incipit: Pope Innocent XIII gives a canonate and prebend to Michael Antonio Wallreuther, secular canon of St. Martin's in Worms.

Notes: The text was issued in Rome at Santa Maria Maggiore on the nones of October 1723 in the third year of the pontificate of Innocent XIII. This version is a copy of UTS 037-17. Wallreuther's predecessor was Henry Greuen, who took up the benefice upon the resignation of John Rudolph Schnernauer. The benefice was expected to return an annual income of 24 gold ducats de camera.
